WHEELING HAS A HAND

In Deciding the Inter-State Championship—Both Mansfield and New Castle Confer With Lytle Over the Long Distance Telephone.

Wheeling's Stogies have a decidedly large hand in deciding the championship of the Interstate league the first half of this week, and both President Burns, of New Castle, and President Pierce, of Mansfield, were willing to put up a good bunch of the long green last night just to have a short talk with Manager "Pop" Lytle, of the Wheelings. Burns had a kick coming; he wanted Wheeling to decline to play the two postponed games with New Castle, in addition to the three scheduled. Lytle replied that he had not made up his mind, and that possibly President Power, of the league, would order him to play the entire five games. Pierce, of New Castle, wanted a promise from Lytle that he would play the five games, and the answer he received was similar to that given Burns. If five games are played there will be double-headers to-day and Wednesday. The team leaves this morning on the Cleveland & Pittsburgh road for New Castle. While Wheeling and New Castle are battling, Youngstown tackles Mansfield at the latter place, the games having been transferred from Youngstown. It is surprising that New Castle has not objected to the transfer of these games, for if they were played at Youngstown every roster there would have pulled for the Giants, and indirectly for New Castle.

Some papers have New Castle in the lead, and others continue with Mansfield at the front, and in the absence of an official standing from President Power, nobody knows what's what. The tabulation printed in Power's paper, as the Intelligencer has already pointed out, cannot be correct, for the victories and defeats do not balance. The Intelligencer will bank on its standing of clubs until Power does what he should have done long ago.

Manager Lytle, of the Wheeling team, last night sent to President Power his reserve list for 1900. These names appear in it: Catcher—Cote. Pitchers—Wells, Parvin, Poole. Infielders—Lyons, Niles. Outfielders—Strang, Taylor, Dobbs. Lytle excluded himself from reservation. Of the other players, Turner and Leaky were engaged with the understanding that they would not be reserved, and Catcher Donahue was loaned to Wheeling by the Dayton club, and will figure on that club's reserve list.

Messrs. Lytle and Healy attended the Nelson Tigers—Will Gutman, manager at Fulton Sunday afternoon, and took a look at Pitcher McConkey, of the latter team. He may be given a trial by the Wheelings.

SHAMROCK AND COLUMBIA

To be Docked Before the International Races Next Month.

NEW YORK, Sept. 18.—Yachtsmen will be glad to learn that there will be an opportunity several days before the international match race between the Columbia and Shamrock to see these racers out of water.

There has been a great deal of mystery about the foreign cutter, her designer, Will Fife, Jr., deeming it best to construct her in secret and launch her "in petticoats." Then since her arrival in these waters only her crew and a few home friends of Sir Thomas Lipton and the designer have been permitted on board. Guess work only leads to the suggestion that the shape of her underbody may forebode the triumph of the Defender.

All who took the trouble to make the journey to Bristol, R. I., could see the Columbia out of water, and excellent photographs of her have been made and published both here and abroad.

Days of mystery, however, are rapidly passing, as on Thursday, September 28, at about 2 o'clock in the afternoon, both yachts will be taken into the large dock at the John N. Robbins Company's ship yard, Erie basin. There, bow and stern, within a few yards of each other, they may be looked at and studied until the following Monday, October 2, the day before the first international race. The Columbia and the Defender left their moorings in Echo Bay yesterday afternoon for Bristol. Each ship was under her own canvas. Mr. Iselin will go to Bristol to-day to witness the setting of a new steel mast in the Columbia and to examine the new set of sails, which will be taken aboard. This will make the fourth complete set of sails made for the Columbia. The last set is the most expensive, and will, if satisfactory after a severe test, be used in the international race. The canvas costs $1.33 a square yard. With this new suit, the total cost of the Columbia's canvas has amounted to about $50,000.

Howard escaped from prison four years ago, after having served part of nine year sentence for swindling operations through the mails.

A FAKE INTERVIEW

Palmed off on the Public as Coming from Perry Belmont—He Still Opposes Bryan and the Chicago Platform.

LONDON, Sept. 17.—Perry Belmont arrived in London this evening from Paris, not having been in England since July, nor having seen a reporter while in Europe.

What purported to be an interview with him, sent from London to the United States on September 6, was the result of an imposition on the part of some one who, from what appears to have been interested motives, reported himself to a reporter at Euston Station, London, as being Mr. Belmont, and expressed the views with regard to American politics as cabled.

Mr. Belmont this evening authorized the statement that he has had no occasion to change the views expressed to the Associated Press on June 17, on the eve of his sailing for Europe, and that he consistently holds to his already published opinions in regard to the financial doctrines of William Jennings Bryan and the Chicago platform, which he will continue to oppose. Mr. Bryan's views in regard to the currency are such that Mr. Belmont could not support him.

Mr. and Mrs. Belmont will sail for the United States next Wednesday by the White Star steamer Teutonic.
